

SALES & MARKETING SPECIALIST, ESSEX (Job Ref 16)

Our client, an established farming partnership based in Essex, is undertaking an exciting new project of developing a sea buckthorn enterprise. Sea buckthorn is farmed in over 40 countries worldwide and is renowned for its health benefits. This post represents an exciting and challenging opportunity to join a newly established programme within the partnership. Please visit website – www.britishseabuckthorn.com.

Ideally you will have experience in sales & marketing techniques and project management. You will assist with the planning and development as well as raising the profile of the product. A keen interest in nutrition or food would be an advantage. The role will include travel and will be both office and field-based work.

Skills required: -

- Excellent communication skills. (further languages would be an advantage).
- High standard of computer literacy including social media and website management.
- Problem solving ability.
- Project management skills.
- Knowledge of marketing techniques.
- Demonstrate initiative and work well under pressure.
- Able to create internal and external relationships.
- Flexible, adaptable and up for a challenge.
- Self-starter.
- Driving licence required.
- A BSc (or equivalent) in a subject relating to marketing, business, food or nutrition would be desirable.
- Level 3 Food Safety certificate. (Desirable although full training would be given).

Salary £20,000 to £25,000pa depending on knowledge and experience, (plus the potential for a bonus scheme to be introduced based on project performance).

To apply for this role please send your cv to Helen Kenvin at recruitment@sentry.co.uk. Please quote Job Reference 16.

Closing date 15th April 2019